

The Canadian Institute of Forestry/Institut forestier du Canada in conjunction with Natural Resources Canada present:

The Forest on your Desktop Electronic Lecture Series

Monthly presentations by leading forest scientists on topics of relevance to forest practitioners everywhere! Here are the next three offerings in our 'herbicide' series. A 'caribou' series will begin in May followed by a 'climate change' series in late summer and fall...

28th February 2007 - 13.30h - 14.30h EST

Doug Pitt, Canadian Wood Fibre Centre – Canadian Forest Service - Natural Resources Canada

Why vegetation management is important in forestry.

Doug will provide quantitative evidence of the impact of timing and intensity of vegetation management on tree growth.

21st March 2007 - 13.30h - 14.30h EST

Michael Irvine, Forest Management Branch, Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources &

Terry Caunter, Pest Management Regulatory Agency

The pesticide registration process in Canada.

They will try and answer the question "how safe are the pesticides we use in forestry?"

25th April 2007 - 13.30h - 14.30h EST

Wayne Bell, Ontario Forest Research Institute, OMNR

Alternatives to herbicides for forestry.

Wayne will share information on the effectiveness and efficiency of tested vegetation management techniques.

Cost: Free to members of the Canadian Institute of Forestry; $25 for non-members

To register: Please email jpineau@cif-ifc.org providing contact information including email and phone...

- Maximum 50 telephone lines available; get your friends together and register now!
- Confirmation & technical information will be forwarded to participants five days in advance of the lecture...
- All presentations will be recorded and made available to CIFI/FC members through digital video/PowerPoint synchronized application at www.cif-ifc.org*

 Live lecture will be delivered in the language of choice of the presenter; follow-up translation of presentation materials to English or French will be made available...*

CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF FORESTRY / INSTITUT FORESTIER DU CANADA

*Voice of Forest Practitioners/
La voix des professionnels
de la forêt*

<http://www.cif-ifc.org>